

A young man with brown, wavy hair is sitting at a wooden desk in a classroom. He is wearing a navy blue t-shirt with white horizontal stripes and a white digital wristwatch on his left wrist. He has a concerned or questioning expression on his face, looking towards the right side of the frame. In the background, there are blurred classroom elements like wooden chairs and desks. To his right, the side profile of another person's face is partially visible, looking towards him. On the desk in front of him, there is a small white notepad and a pen.
